

ANN ARBOR FIBERARTS GUILD MEETING MINUTES

April 8, 2019

Vice President - Anne Flora called the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m.

Elections: Nominations from the floor for Treasurer - Teresa Garland; Secretary - Jan Frank. Passed by acclamation. New membership committee - Trish Richie, Carol Wineman, and Elizabeth Walther.

Treasurer - Teresa Garland reported that we are comfortably in the black. She reminded members that we depend on the Fiber Feast for a good part of our budget and we need to support it. The Board is looking for ways to use some of the surplus for the growth of the Guild, like new microphones.

Fiber Feast - Sharon McKenna reported that the ticket sales for this year are down about 50, at this time. She still needs some help for a few tasks and can use more door prizes. Contact her.

Exhibits - Helen Welford said that the Power Center Show is very nice. It went up well. The take-down will be Monday, April 29, at 9:00 a.m. The 2019 Cherry Hill Show will need paperwork in May and jurying in September. Power Center Show art work is eligible for Cherry Hill.

New Exhibit chair is Cindy Harris with Anne MacKinnon the assistant chair.

Jury - New Jury chair is Sue Widawski.

Library - Amy Cameron reminded us that the May meeting is a good time to check out books for the summer.

Membership - Laurie Jones introduced seven guests.

Facebook/Website - Mary Valerie Richter invited us to look at the Facebook posting of the Power Center Show. May 20 will be the last website submission date until August.

MLH - Nancy Hedberg reminded members that Friday, April 12 is the last day for registration for the May MLH conference in Holland, MI. Mary Underwood could use some help with the May 30th set-up of guild displays.

Program - Sharon McKenna introduced Kate Sturman Gorman, visual storyteller, for her lecture "In Accordance with Others."

Respectfully submitted, Jan Frank, Secretary
